make Detroit the Western terminus of a line of railway over eleven hundred miles in length, having the same connections at Quebec and Portland, and places in no direct communication with Europe as the Empire City of the Atlantic. And now the one remaining obstacle to the full connection with Portland is removed. The route at that place is the same as the weekly line of Ocean steamers, which will run during the winter months. These steamers will be the same as the regular mail boats between Europe and the Western States. The produce of the latter will shortly follow, and we do not think we are in prospect of a most prosperous future for our national railroad.

The train left Point St. Charles shortly after two o'clock, and safely crossed the Bridge. From the time it entered the tube on this side, until it emerged from it on the St. Lambert side, exactly thirteen minutes elapsed.—Pilot 24th.

THE LOSS OF THE INDIAN.

The following was telegraphed to the New York Commercial Advertiser, Saturday. The steamer Gladstone has returned to Halifax with the remainder of the survivors of the Indian.

The ship has totally broken to pieces, and only a small portion of her stern is visible. A little of her cargo is drifted ashore and it is so damaged as to be worthless.

Complaints are made of the robbery and plunder of the passengers by the natives, and legal enquiry will be taken.

The Indian was a small schooner, and the cargo consisted of two hundred tons of bale goods, one hundred tons of iron, and the balance coal.

The ship ran on the ledge while on a speed of eight knots an hour. The weather at the time was heavy but calm. The Captain was detected by the soundings and supposed he was off Cape Sable.

When the vessel struck she tore off her bottom and filled almost instantly. The passengers on the deck of the boiler, thus preventing an explosion.

Boats numbers one, two, and three were cut out and lowered, when a sudden calm took place, and the vessel parted suddenly.

The steamer passengers now made a rush for the boats, and sunk numbers one and two, drowning the captain, several of the crew and passengers, and two women and children.

Boat No. 1, under command of Mr. Smith, the second officer, was blown off the rocks and sank. Boat No. 2, of 6 and 7 were sunk or damaged.

Mr. Tibbitts (the fourth officer) broke through the ice, and was supposed to be lost on the shore.

It is impossible to give a complete list, but the following are known to be lost:—Passengers—Lewis J. Meier, his wife and two children; Mrs. Edmond and infant; Mrs. Brown; and John H. Brown.

Crew—James Lang; John H. Brown, steward; Thomas L. Bond, chief cook. The following is a list of the cabin passengers, all of whom were saved.

Mr. H. H. Brown, and Mrs. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown, and Mrs. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. Brown, and Mrs. U. Brown.

On Monday morning the weather was very heavy; the Captain was not so lucky; the duties of the ship were not conducted in the usual way. About 5 o'clock, however, going at the rate of ten miles an hour, she ran upon the ledge.

She was steering close to the shore, and was at the time by the compass; the west and third masts were the officers of the vessel, and the engine room was empty, and the wind moderate. All hands were immediately on deck, and the Captain assumed command, and the engine room was started and the engine started.

The London Times in an editorial on the relations of England and France, entertains no doubt that a feeling of hostility to England exists in the minds of the French people. It is charged that the French Government with direct aid, is carrying out a policy of aggression against England.

The Government has promulgated its plan for creating the province of Quebec, and for the purpose of uniting the French people, and for the purpose of uniting the French people, and for the purpose of uniting the French people.

A serious mutiny had prevailed on board the ship of the line Prince Royal at Victoria. One hundred men were taken prisoner, and the ship was forced to return to the United States.

The demand for money continued active at the bank, and applications for it at the bank were numerous.

The stock market had been dull and heavy with slight decline in prices.

HASTINGS NURSERY.

I, the undersigned being desirous of furnishing the best qualities of Apple Trees to the farmers and others of Hastings, by establishing a Nursery in the County, begs to inform them that he has now in a thriving condition,

30,000 YOUNG APPLE TREES,
Of 28 VARIETIES, consisting of the best Harvest, Fall, Winter and Spring apples.

These trees having been A. L. CHAFFIN in the root, and grown in the County, can be purchased with safety, without fear of having them die, as is the case with nine-tenths of Foreign Trees.

He is setting out this spring 150,000 Apple Trees, and 15,000 Pear Trees, all gratis, so that hereafter persons can be supplied with the choicest fruit trees at home, with a certainty of having trees congenial to the climate.

GRAPES.
He has also a large number of grape vines of different varieties growing, to which he invites attention.
Persons are particularly invited to examine his nursery, and apply for a catalogue before purchasing elsewhere.

A MOST SCIENTIFIC INVENTION
An instrument for the cure of genital Debility, or Nocturnal Emissions, more properly known as Genital Weakness, &c. Rapidly and permanently cured in from fifteen days to six months by the use of this instrument.

Young Men take Particular Notice Dr. ALEX & SON take great pleasure in nouncing that they have invented a most important instrument for the cure of the ab-disease. It has been subjected to a test by most eminent Physicians in London, Paris, Phdelphia, and New York; it has been dethe only useful instrument ever invented for

A CURE WARRANTED.
Dr. Ames & Sox have devoted their attention exclusively to this peculiar class of males, and the relief they have consequently been able to render their fellow creatures, is fully tested and gratefully acknowledged by countless half of patients and others daily arriving in town all parts of the country for the express purpose of consultations, while their experience have been crowned with the most signal advantages; yet from what they have experienced enquiring into the causes of these infectious complaints, (from their most simple condition to that of the most dangerous and inveterate) they have always entertained the possibility their prevention and removal, and likewise variably found that the most horrible and vicious forms of disease could almost invariably be traced to one of the following causes:—

poverty, neglect, or the ill-effects of unskilful and improper treatment; therefore Dr. Anson has succeeded in discovering, in the treatment of these diseases, a safe, effectual, and painless course; omitting all combination of drugs which bear an equal character of weakness, where, perhaps, a single well as those whose preparation of application might be productive of bad consequences in the highest private individuals, short, the laudable end of their remedies is lessening of a great mass of human misery, the alleviation, relief and prevention of the grievous afflictions that are in reality the foe of life, and which, while they so extensively enround us, call also for our skill and interference for their extermination.
